

1. space complexity is  $O(N^2)$ , rows * columns.
2. the number of rows and columns must always be equal to accurately represent incoming and outgoing edges of each node
3. No
4. No
5. use DFS traversal, if a node has already been visited and shows up again, then there's a cycle.